

YOUR HOME

YOUR CASTLE

Today's homeowners are making the investment of a lifetime and they want peace of mind and protection in the event their home develops a structural defect.

Rest easy knowing that your builder understands this need and wants you to feel confident about your purchase in every way possible. That's why they have provided you with a structural home warranty from StrucSure Home Warranty.

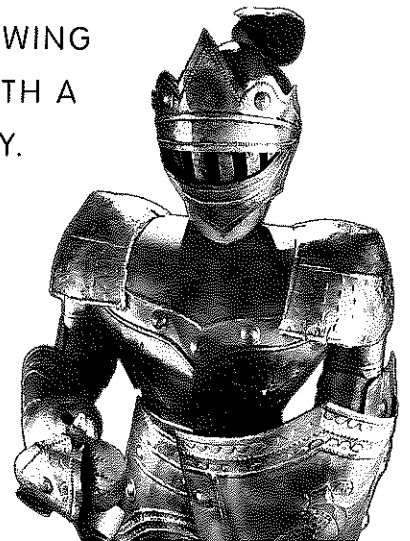

Your structural warranty will assume a builder's liability for major structural defects on your new home for the next 10 years. This protects your builder from expensive claims in the event a major structural defect occurs. It also reassures buyers like you about your home's structural integrity.

Your coverage includes defects in components such as framing members, floor joists, roof trusses, and the foundation system. Your warranty also includes a provision for third-party arbitration should a disagreement occur between you and your builder. So, everyone gets the royal treatment...

LIVE HAPPILY EVER AFTER KNOWING YOUR HOME IS PROTECTED WITH A STRUCTURAL HOME WARRANTY.

YOUR BUILDER'S COMMITMENT TO QUALITY

Your builder has made your new home everything you could want. The perfect location, the livable floor plan, the luxurious amenities—all a reflection of their commitment to you. So, it makes sense that they provide that same level of commitment by providing the best 10-year warranty coverage available.

FINANCIAL STRENGTH, QUALITY OF CONSTRUCTION

Experience, length of time in business, reputation, and customer satisfaction are some of the areas we review in order for your builder to purchase and provide you with our 10-year structural warranty. Furthermore, we screen each builder annually to reevaluate quality and performance. We require that they have met the stringent standards of qualification established by the professionals at StrucSure Home Warranty.

LEAVE THE RISK TO US

Your structural warranty will begin on day one of closing and will assume a builder's liability for major structural defects on your new home for the next 10 years. This coverage includes defects in components such as framing members, floor joists, roof trusses, and the foundation system. Your warranty also includes a provision for third-party arbitration should a disagreement occur between you and your builder. We offer a valuable mediation process that promotes communication and fair resolution for all parties involved. In addition, your warranty is transferable, providing you with a valuable asset and marketing tool if you ever decide to sell your home.
